BEAUTIFUL GREETING CARDS & STATIONERY

2025 TRADE CATALOGUE

ENVIRONMENT

We are constantly assessing the way we produce our cards to ensure the least impact on the environment. We are committed to only producing biodegradable and recyclable products.

We are also working towards becoming a zero waste business.

FSC & PEFC BOARD

Our cards are printed on FSC and PEFC boards as standard.

MADE IN THE UK

All our cards, envelopes, cello bags and labels are manufactured in the UK.

COMPOSTABLE CELLOBAGS OR RECYCLABLE BELLY BANDS?

Most of our customers prefer their greeting cards to be packed in compostable clear cellobags. This is the best option especially for outside spinners, or the damp environments of a garden centre or florist.

However, some of our customers prefer a naked card and we can pack your order using semi-transparent belly bands. These are paper-based, and so fully recyclable.

Just let us know which you prefer when you place your order.

This catalogue is printed in the UK on PEFC accredited paper using vegetable inks.

This range of "On the Farm" cards are made from original lino prints from the studio of artist Ann Edwards.

A lino print is an original, unique work of art. It is a time consuming and technically exacting process made by cutting into a piece of an artist's lino, then printing by hand using an antique 150 year old printing press. The finished lino print is then coloured with watercolour.

THE SPLASH BIRD COLLECTION

Artist Laura Andrew is a lifelong lover of the natural world and has been professionally painting wildlife since specialising in natural history illustration for her BA Hons degree. This collection captures the distinctive personalities of British birds combining energy and an eye for detail. Each piece begins with a splash of paint, which gradually emerges a bird by use of spontaneous and precise watercolour.

KINGFISHER
Alcedo atthis

That unmistakable flash of bright turquoise and orange can only be seen on a kingfisher. Usually seen flying low over water or motionless on a perch searching for fish, which when caught, are always swallowed whole. Nests are a tunnel in the riverbank, up to a metre long and can contain up to seven glossy white eggs.
